GREAT NORTHWEST ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Great Northwest Athletic Conference, which is in its sixth season of athletic competition, is comprised of nine NCAA Division II schools.

The nine schools are located in four different states, including five in the state of Washington: Central Washington University, Saint Martin's University, Seattle University, Seattle Pacific University and Western Washington University.

The GNAC, which was officially founded on July 1, 2001, also includes the University of Alaska Anchorage, the University of Alaska Fairbanks, Northwest Nazarene University (Idaho) and Western Oregon University. Humboldt State University (Calif.) was a charter member of the conference but left following the 2005-06 season.

Prior to the formation of the GNAC, all the schools were members of the PacWest Conference.

Three of the schools in the conference - Alaska Anchorage, Alaska Fairbanks and Seattle Pacific – were charter members of the PacWest, which was created in May, 1992 with the merger of the Great Northwest Conference and the Continental Divide Conference. Another charter member of the PacWest was Montana State - Billings, which has been granted GNAC membership effective on July 1, 2007.

Four current GNAC members - Central Washington, Saint Martin's, Western Oregon and Western Washington – joined the PacWest prior to the 1998-99 season.

Central Washington, Saint Martin's and Western Washington were previously members of the Pacific Northwest Athletic Conference, while Western Oregon was a member of the Cascade Conference.

Seattle University and Northwest Nazarene, from the Northwest and Cascade conferences, joined the PacWest prior to the 1999-2000 season.

Richard Hannan, who served terms as the athletic director at Southwest Texas State University, Weber State University and at Lewis-Clark State College, serves as the Commissioner for the Great Northwest Conference. He also previously coached basketball at Lewis-Clark State College.

The GNAC sponsors championships in six men's and seven women's sports, including volleyball, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, men's and women's indoor track-and-field and men's and women's outdoor track-and-field.

COMMISSIONER - Richard R. Hannan (Sixth Year)

Richard R. Hannan, who has been involved in intercollegiate athletics for more than three decades, was appointed the first commissioner of the Great Northwest Athletic Conference (GNAC) on May, 2001. He assumed his duties July 1.

Prior to taking over as commissioner, Hannan, a native of Spokane, Wash., served as interim athletic director at Lewis-Clark State College. Hannan, who also was the athletic director and head basketball coach at LCSC between 1974 and 1989, has also been an athletic director at two NCAA Division I schools.

Hannan, who earned a BA degree in social science in 1963 at Eastern Washington University, coached basketball at Columbia Basin College for seven years (1967-74) before beginning his first term at LCSC.

While at LCSC, he served as the host athletic director for the NAIA national baseball tournament for six years.

He developed an honorary coaches program for the tournament. He also helped organize the Lewis-Clark State Warrior Booster Club, which became a substantial funding source for the college.

The LCSC program made substantial growth during his tenure, correcting inequities in the women's sports programs and adding the sports of men's and women's tennis. The Warrior baseball team also won four NAIA national titles during his term.

Hannan was appointed the athletic director at Weber State University in Ogden, Utah, in 1989. Three years later he was appointed to the same position at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, Tex before returning to the Northwest.

During his tenure at Weber State, he implemented a student advisory board and created an academic support system for student-athletes. He also balanced the athletic department budget in spite of an $183,000 revenue shortfall and developed coaches television shows. He also created a radio broadcasting program, bring the game broadcasts, promotions and marking "in-house."

At Southwest Texas State, Hannan was responsible for creating and developing the schools' first athletics endowment fund, doubling revenue production for the athletic department. He initiated a television program for football, a format that was adopted by the Southland Conference. He also developed and implemented a program to eliminate Title IX department deficiencies.

Hannan, who earned a master's degree in guidance counseling from Eastern Washington in 1967, is a member of the NAIA Hall-of-Fame and the NWAACC Hall-of-Fame.

Prior to coaching at the collegiate level, he was the head basketball coach at North Central High School in Spokane between 1964 and 1967.

Hannan and his wife, Nancy, have been married for 45 years. They have three adult children, Gregory, Molly (Akey) and Douglas, and four grandchildren.
